

The entry to the Third Mann's Tour, Karlsplatz, Vienna

THEATERMUSEUM WIEN

Palais Lobkowitz

Lobkowitzplatz 2, 1010 Vienna

www.theatermuseum.at

Situated in the baroque Palais Lebkowitz, the great moments of stage magic are preserved for all eternity: Over 1,000 stage models, 600 costumes and props from over three centuries, as well as over 100,000 sketches and more than 700,000 photos can be seen at the museum.

MUSEUM DER ILLUSIONEN

Wallnerstraße 4, 1010 Vienna

www.museumderillusionen.at

In this newly established museum, one is confronted with a variety of sensual and educational optical illusions, many of these as walk-through exhibits. Especially recommended for visitors free from giddiness.

DER DRITTE MANN TOUR

www.drittemanntour.at

This guided tour through Vienna's sewage system brings Orson Welles – who was himself a passionate magicians – classic movie “Der dritte Mann” (“The Third Man”) to life. Mysterious background information in a remarkable setting. Also well-suited for those of you who are not that keen of guided tours. Guided tours in English available. Official tours guiding you through the sewer system are only officially offered by the Municipality of Vienna. Keep away from other providers.

Art Museum in Graz

MAGIC OUTSIDE OF VIENNA

GRAZ

MAGIC SUNDAY

<https://magicsunday.at>

5 well-trained magicians established themselves as a corner stone of the cultural scene in Graz. The shows held in the enchanting small Leeb Theatre are sold out on a regular basis and acquired a regular audience. Magic Sunday consists of: Martin Kosch, Hannes Koch, Lukas Lipp, Paul Sommersguter and Philipp Tawfik.

LINZ

MAGIC MONDAY

<http://www.magic-monday.at>

Wolfgang Moser and Philipp Ganglberger perform on a regular basis in the „design capital of Austria“. Guest stars surprise the audiences on some occasions.

.
. .

Next to these examples, there is a variety of performances all throughout Austria.

For further information see:

<https://www.mra.at/termine>

Photo on the right: modern architecture of Haas House meets 12th century – St. Stephen's Cathedral, symbol of Vienna.